

Camille Beaudoin

Director of Financial Education

Autorité des Marchés Financiers (AMF Quebec, Canada)

Since 2006, Mr. Beaudoin has held the position of Director of Financial Education at the AMF Quebec and contributes actively to facilitation of the Quebec Financial Education Experts Network. He's a member of the Canadian National Steering Committee on Financial Literacy and the International Organization of Securities Commissions' (IOSCO) Retail Investors Committee.

As part of his duties at the AMF Quebec, Mr. Beaudoin also leads the Quebec Financial Education Strategy, directs work on the AMF Financial Awareness Index, publishes the educationfinanciere.com blog and moderates the Twitter @EducFin account. With a Bachelor's degree in Consumer Science and a Master's in Sociology from Laval University (Quebec City), Camille Beaudoin has always been interested in the financial behaviour of households.
