

JED HODGSON

Manager

Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) UK

Jed Hodgson leads the Regulatory Affairs function in the UK Financial Conduct Authority. His team manage relationships with the Money Advice Service, The Financial Ombudsman Service and the Financial Service Compensation Scheme. He is also the FCA project lead for the development of the UK's new Single Financial Guidance Body. Previously Jed established the partnership and intelligence gathering function which is focused on working with a wide range of organisations to gather information on emerging issues which may result in harm to consumers. He has also led major investigations in to a wide range of serious offences including insider trading, corruption, and investment fraud. He is a member of Committee 8 IOSCO (investor education and investor protection).