

HANNAH REGAN

Senior Associate, Consumer Strategy

Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) UK

Hannah Regan is a Senior Associate in the Consumer Insight department at the Financial Conduct Authority in the UK. Hannah has worked on a wide range of consumer-focused projects, including work on how consumers with cancer access the travel insurance market, and most recently a broader piece looking at how the FCA regulates for the broad range of consumers and challenges, including a particular focus on how we regulate for vulnerable consumers and a look at how technological advances are affecting how we are, and will, regulate.