

Pascale MICOLEAU-MARCEL resume

Pascale Micoleau-Marcel is the Chief Executive of the Institute for Public Financial Education (IEFP), a not-for-profit association formed in 2006 to promote and develop financial literacy in France, supported by the Autorité des Marchés Financiers (AMF), the French market regulator, the Ministry of Education, the French Banking Association and NYSE Euronext, the company that runs France's financial exchanges.

She has spent the 11 previous years at the AMF as a supervisor for investigations related to market manipulation and information to the public.

Previously, she had been successively Head of the Information Department at the Local Bodies division (Home Ministry) and lawyer (in the international department) in one of the largest French industrial groups.